Sextantio Rwanda, The Capanne Project

Hotelier Daniele Kihlgren is the brains behind the Sextantio projects, which have previously taken abandoned and run-down Italian villages and sparked new life with a hotel that's spread across existing houses or caves. The result is truly authentic stays that immerse guests in the setting's rhythms and routines. Now, Kihlgren is overseeing the first opening outside of Italy – on Rwanda's Lake Kivu. Huts will be available to stay in on a donation basis, with profits being funnelled back into the local community.
